President at Westover.

At Westover, on James River, where the ladies' pleasure is adame with bleeding hearts, apricots, wisteria, lilacs and a hundred other fragrant and lovely spring blossoms, President and Mrs. Roosevelt, in their trip up James River, spent some pleasant hours on Saturday last, and enjoyed Mrs. William McCrory Ramsey's cordial hospitality at luncheon.

Mr. Ramsey is in California, but Mrs. Ramsey had her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, at her side, and her sons from college to unite with her in extending a welcome to her distinguished company of visitors.

Old customs are always adhered to at Westover, and all the servants, farm hands and co-workers of the plantation gathered in holiday attire to make their courtesies and pay their respects to the Chief Executive of the nation and his friends.

At no other place could Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt have received a fuller or more charming impression of old-time country life in Virginia than here, where the mistress of the plantation and the hostess of Saturday lives so fully up to the Westover traditions, implanted years ago by courtly Colonel William Byrd, the most elegant gentleman of the eighteenth century in Virginia, and a builder of one of the stately of her river mansions.

During his stay President Roosevelt planted a tree on the lawn to serve as a lasting reminder of his visit.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Oscar S. Straus, and Mrs. Straus, with Captain and Mrs. Selous, were guests at Westover on Sunday.

Jamestown in May.

This month will be made memorable by three important and interesting ceremonies which will take place on Jamestown Island.

On Monday, May 13th, the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities will celebrate the three-hundredth anniversary of the landing of the English colonists at Jamestown. The ceremonies on the island that day will be very impressive.

Two steamers, the Pocahontas and the Brandon, have been chartered to go from Richmond, so that a large number of excursionists may be accommodated. The trip going and returning will be made as pleasant as possible.

At hand, under the direction of Mr. Herbert L. Rees, will play popular airs on the boat, both going and coming, and will also furnish music at the celebration on the island.

On May 9th the New York Colonial Dames will present and dedicate very handsome memorial gates. The A. P. V. A. will be represented by its Jamestown committee and its vice-presidents.

On May 11th the National Society of Colonial Dames in America will formally present to the association the handsome memorial church recently constructed on the foundations of the ancient Jamestown church. About seventy-five members of the A. P. V. A. will be present, including the officers, central committee, advisory board, Jamestown committee, and directresses of the branch associations. Officers of the association and the Jamestown committee will be the guests of the Colonial Dames.

Because one celebration so closely follows another, it has been impossible to secure excursion rates, except for May 11th; and those desiring to attend the exercises on the 9th and 11th

The spotted dress is red and white, trimmed with plain white bands, piped with red. The sleeves are sewed in with a beading run with red velvet ribbon. The sailor suit is light blue galatee, trimmed with bands of striped dark blue and white and dark blue braid.

Amphlett-Marshall.

A marriage in which Richmond Society is interested took place yesterday at noon in St. Thomas's Church, Washington, when Miss Mary Blackford Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fielding Lewis Marshall, became the bride of Mr. Richard F. Amphlett, of Wychbold Hall, Worcestershire, England.

Rev. C. Ernest Smith performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Alice Stokes, of this city, as maid of honor; and Misses Rebecca Nash, of Portsmouth, Va., and Annie Phinizy, of Augusta, Ga., as bridesmaids. Mr. Walton H. Marshall was best man, and the ushers included Messrs. Barry Marshall and John Thompson, of New York; St. Julien Marshall, of Portsmouth, Va.; Albert Baker, of Winchester, Va.; L. L. Nicholson, Jr., Dr. Charles H. James, Dr. R. S. Beale and Mr. Rawlins Hume, all of Washington. Master Charles Gwatkins, of Richmond, acted as page, and little Miss Helen Cutler, of England, was flower girl.

After the rehearsal Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Marshall entertained the bridal party at supper, and the ceremony yesterday was followed by a wedding breakfast.

The bride is a great-granddaughter of George Washington, and a great-granddaughter of John Marshall. Mr. Amphlett is heir to the Wych-bold Hall estate, which comes through his father, Mr. Richard Holmden Amphlett, from his great-grandfather, Sir Richard Paul Amphlett, the last baronet of that name.

Tea To-Morrow.

The home of Mrs. John A. Coke, No. 7 West Franklin Street, will be the scene of a pretty silver tea to-morrow afternoon, from 5 to 7 o'clock, for the benefit of Commonwealth Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

An excellent musical program will be one of the features of the afternoon. A number of society girls will assist in entertaining and serving.

Robertson-Smith.

A quiet wedding was celebrated in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simon, No. 2409 East Grace Street, yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when Miss Ada Luella Smith became the wife of Mr. Alexander Robertson, of Kilmarnock, Scotland. Rev. Dr. R. B. Eggleston, of the Third Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will visit New York and Washington before sailing for an extended European tour. They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Beautiful Wedding.

The Baptist Church of Lawrenceville, Va., was the scene of a beautiful wedding Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, when Miss Flora Viola Thews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thews, became the bride of Mr. William S. Cournow, formerly of Manchester, Va. Rev. J. W. S. Robins officiated, and Miss Estelle Mallory rendered the wedding march from "Lohengrin" and "Mediation" during the ceremony. The church was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns, lilies and other white flowers. The bride wore a white satin gown and a tulle veil, caught with a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Ella Grey Michael, who wore white silk mull over taffeta, with INFANTS' ONE-PIECE PRINCESS PETTICOAT. Paris Pattern No. 1856. All Sizes Allowed.

Everything in clothes nowadays is princess in general contour and likewise the baby's attire partakes of this general feature. This dainty little petticoat fits snugly to the tiny figure and forms the right sort of an undergarment under the more elaborate dress. A deep ruffle at the lower edge lengthens the petticoat, and may be made dainty with Val edging.

The pattern is in one size. To make the petticoat requires 2 1/2 yards of goods 2 1/2 inches wide, or 2 1/2 yards 30 inches wide; 2 1/2 yards of binding and 5 yards of edging to trim.

Price of pattern, 10 cents. In ordering patterns be careful to give the correct number and address. PATTERN DEPARTMENT, Times-Dispatch, Richmond, Va.

white picture hat, and carried pink roses.

They were met at the altar by the groom, with his best man, Mr. Wilkie G. Freeman, of Richmond.

The ushers were Messrs. G. A. and F. E. Thews, brothers of the bride; B. B. Cleaton and W. R. Miles.

After a dinner to the bridal party at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Cournow left on the Southern train at noon for Cresco, Va., to attend the marriage of the bride's brother, Mr. Frank F. Thews, after which they will leave on an extended Northern tour. They will make their home in Lawrenceville.

Chapter Installed.

Richmond fraternity and college circles will be interested to know of the installation of Eta Chapter of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity at the University of Virginia on Saturday evening last.

The installation exercises were conducted by the visiting officers of the national fraternity—Mr. Nelson H. Cooney, of Norfolk, Va.; Mr. William L. Phillips, of Richmond, and Mr. James B. Webster, formerly of Richmond College, now of Chester, Pa.

The members of the New Eta Chapter are Messrs. G. A. and F. E. Thews, of Richmond, Va.; A. G. Brown, of Bristow, Mont.; Otis Marshall, of Harboursville, Va.; Ralph L. Russell, of Birmingham, Ala.; R. H. Dixon, of Tarboro, N. C.; E. Warren Wall, of Farmville, Va., and Carl Holliday, of Knoxville, Tenn.

Immediately following the installation exercises a banquet was served at the Colonial Hotel.

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity was founded at Richmond College in 1899, and has now seventeen chapters in as many well-known colleges and universities.

Class Recital.

The elocution class of the Woman's College will give a recital in the college chapel Friday evening. A large number of the students' friends have been invited.

About twelve young ladies will present a dramatization of Mrs. Gaskell's "Cranford," in three acts, and several readings will complete the program.

Miss Polkard, who has charge of this part of the work, has given efficient training, and the young ladies are practically perfect in their several roles.

Chapter to Meet.

Chesterfield Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, will hold its regular meeting Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Walter R. Allen, No. 304 South Third Street. All members who have not received their membership cards for "Beauvoir" are requested to be present and get them at this time.

Study Club to Meet.

The Monumental Chapter Study Club will meet in the Kindergarten-room to-morrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

Association to Meet.

The Visiting Nurse's Association will hold an important meeting this morning at 11 o'clock in the home of Miss Sallie Deane, No. 203 East Franklin Street.

To Compete for Scholarship.

The competitive work of the Richmond Art Club has been forwarded to the New York School of Art, which will award a scholarship to the Richmond student showing most talent and promise. The winner's name will be announced shortly.

The final dance in a series was given Monday evening at the Art Club rooms, and proved most enjoyable.

Called Meeting.

At a called meeting of the Masonic Home Auxiliary held yesterday morning it was decided not to have the moonlight excursion down James River, which was proposed some time ago. The auxiliary will give a benefit dance in Baldwin Hall at some date within the next two weeks.

Mrs. Glasgow Hostess.

According to last reports from London, Mrs. Arthur Glasgow, daughter of Mr. John P. Branch, of this city, will be one of the leading London hostesses this season.

Mrs. Glasgow has recently leased one of the handsomest houses in Berkeley Square, and is spending a large amount in decorations and fittings. She is unusually attractive, and has become very popular by reason of her wit and social charm. She is an expert motorist and understands the machinery of a car better than most men.

Mrs. Glasgow introduced Miss Edith Clarke, of New York, at a large dinner last week.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. E. Randolph Williams left last evening to be the guest of Mrs. George S. Brewster, in New York. Mrs. Williams was formerly Miss Eleanor Boshier, of this city.

Misses Charlotte and Helen Pleasants, of New York, are visiting here. E. B. Pleasants, a prominent official of the Atlantic Coast Line, arrived in the city on their father's private car yesterday morning, and spent the day, returning home last night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. de Saussure, Jr., of New York, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. de Saussure, on Park Avenue, extended.

Miss Nora Housley, who has returned from New York and is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. John Dooley, at No. 314 East Main Street.

Attorney-General and Mrs. Gilmer, of North Carolina, are spending some time at the Hygeia Hospital. They expect to sail shortly for Europe.

Miss Annie Fletcher will spend the summer at East Gloucester, Mass.

Mr. Dudley Pendleton, son of Mr. Edmund Pendleton, of the Richmond Evening Journal, is ill with pneumonia at Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Thomas B. Tomb, State agent of Missouri, Daughters of the American Revolution, is a guest at the Jefferson Hotel, en route to her home in Kansas City, attending the Continental Congress, Daughters of the American Revolution, in Washington, and the opening of Jamestown Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Weldon are the guests of Mrs. T. C. Sykes, in London Street, Portsmouth.

Miss Bernadette Meredith and Mr. Frank Meredith have returned from a visit to Captain T. J. Meredith, in Staunton.

Miss Sarah Jones has returned to her home in Charlotte, N. C., after a visit to Miss Mary Butler. Miss Butler did not accompany her, as was stated yesterday.

Mrs. J. A. Spittell, of No. 500 West Clay Street, is spending a few weeks with her mother, in Washington, D. C.

Miss Josephine Wright is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas S. Shepherd, in Fredericksburg, Va.

Mrs. Horace Hayes is the guest of Mrs. Tazewell Taylor in Ghent, Norfolk.

Mrs. John Holmes-Smith, of Lynchburg, is visiting the Holmes family, No. 103 East Main Street, for a few days.

HEAVY DAMAGES.

Such Are Claimed in Suit Instituted Yesterday.

A suit of considerable interest was instituted yesterday in the Law and Equity Court of the city of Richmond. It is that of Charles Wood vs. Clarence G. Burton for damages to the amount of $10,000. The suit grows out of the serious injury of the plaintiff, who fell into a trench being excavated by Burton, a contractor. It is alleged that the accident, which resulted in the plaintiff's being seriously injured, was due to the negligence of the defendant. The plaintiff's spine was badly wrecked, and it is alleged that he is permanently disabled by reason of this injury.

LOVELY SUBURBS IN SPRING GARD

Highland Park Has on Its Spring Clothes, Which Show to Advantage.

The vernal days of late have offered an excellent opportunity for the resumption of building operations, both in this city and the suburbs, and nothing is being left undone to carry forward a great deal of the work on homes in the parks north of the city in order that they may be occupied during the coming summer months.

Wonderful improvements have been made in Highland Park, where hundreds of trees with an abundance of foliage and the fresh verdure of the lawns make it resemble some famous suburban sections of the larger cities of the country.

While much has been done to promote the growth of the perennial importance of having an up-to-date fire
